Does the Earth Really Move?

Science says that it does, but we cannot help wondering sometimes if there isn't some mistake about it when we see how stubbornly certain old ideas cling to their rusty and antiquated ideas. It is not that thousands of old-time physicians and old-time astronomers and old-time philosophers refuse to believe that the earth moves, but that they refuse to believe that the earth moves on. At a scientific conference at the University of Chicago, the question of the earth's motion was discussed. The speakers were all in favor of the earth's motion, but they were all in favor of the earth's motion on a different basis. They were all in favor of the earth's motion on a different basis.

IT IS YELLOW JACK.

The Board of Health Physicians
Are Now Investigating.President Bayles Will Remain on Duty
Until Midnight.

There was a widely circulated rumor this afternoon, which President Bayles, of the Health Department, would not deny, that there is at least one case, if not more, of yellow fever in a sporadic form in this city. When the question was put direct to President Bayles:

"Is the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, or any other bureau or employee of the Board of Health operating with any person, native or refugee, who is down with yellow fever in any form?"

Mr. Bayles hesitated and said:

"I cannot answer that question and do not desire to be cross-questioned so closely. We have had several cases reported as yellow fever which, on investigation, turned out to be bilious fever, and unless reputable physicians have sacrificed all sense of honor there has been no death by yellow fever in this city this year."

"We are ready for any emergency, and the city cannot under any circumstances be afflicted by an epidemic of yellow fever. We are prepared for it and have no fears of the result."

President Bayles said at 5 o'clock this afternoon that Dr. Edson and the physicians of the Board of Health were busy investigating a reported case of yellow fever. While he had no definite knowledge in the matter he had a strong suspicion that it might be a genuine case of the scourge.

He intended to remain on duty until midnight to get the full particulars. He would announce to the press the true state of the case as soon as he learned it.

"There is no danger of the contagion spreading, even if there should come a case of yellow fever here," he added.

LATER.—It is announced as a genuine case of yellow fever.

MAINE REPUBLICAN PLURALITY 18,682.

Less Than It Was Four Years Ago—Comparisons with 1884.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.
LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 12.—The Journal has returns from 400 Maine towns. Nearly all of these returns have come from town clerks. To-day's figures show more nearly than any that have yet been given the result of Monday's election. As the remaining towns will not change the result very much, to-day's figures will confirm very nearly the full official returns when they are received.

These towns give the following results: Burlington, 77,277; Putnam, 58,995; Cushing, 2,899; Sismond, 440. Republican plurality, 18,682. Republican majority, 14,845. The Republican plurality in 1884 was 12,806. The same towns two years ago gave the following: Bodwell, 67,242; Edwards, 52,627; Clark, 3,823. Republican plurality, 14,615; Republican majority, 10,882.

SPENT ON A PICNIC.

The Proceeds of a Trusted Young Clerk's Wandering from the Right Path.

On the complaint of William R. Vidal, of 34 Broad street, his clerk, John J. Davis, was arrested to-day for forgery.

Davis is about eighteen years old. He had been in the employ of Mr. Vidal for about three weeks.

On Saturday Mr. Vidal received a postal card from the Globe Woolen Company, of 51 Leonard street, asking why he did not send the receipt for a check made on Sept. 10.

Mr. Vidal replied that he had received no check, and on Tuesday he went to Leonard street.

He found that the check, which was drawn on the Fifth National Bank, had been sent, and thinking that it might have been lost, he went to the bank to stop payment.

The teller handed him the check, which was duly indorsed, and Mr. Vidal at once recognized the handwriting of his clerk. The check was for $21.75.

Davis left at the usual hour on Saturday, after collecting several bills for Mr. Vidal. The proceeds of which he also pocketed, and did not turn up Monday. He was arrested at his room in Pearl street. Thirty cents were found in his pocket. He confessed and said he had spent the money at a picnic.

This morning, in the Tombs Court, he was held in $500 bail for trial.

SHOOTING AT CREEDMOOR.

The President's Match the Event of the Rifle Association Meeting To-Day.

This is the third day of the National Rifle Association's shooting tournament at Creedmoor. The great event of the day is the President's match at 200 and 300 yards, for the military championship of the United States. The winners will contest again at 600 yards. The match is opened to members of the army, navy and marine corps of the United States and the national guard of any State.

The Interstate long-range match is open to teams of four from all rifle associations or clubs anywhere in the United States, the distance being 800, 900 and 1,000 yards.

The attendance is good, and favorable winds seem to insure good scores.

Miss Mather Scores Another Point.

In the action of Margaret Mather against Manager J. M. Hill, of the Union Square Theatre, Judge Ingraham was asked to find that Manager Hill was not indebted to the actress and that he had fully accounted to her. This he today refused to do.

Ex-Judge Dittenhofer, counsel for Mrs. Mather, will now commence suit against Manager Hill to recover $50,000 deducted by him for losses.

Morris Lazarus Discharged.

Before Judge Martine, in General Sessions, Morris Lazarus, the young man held in Jefferson Market Police Court recently, charged with stealing a gold watch from Mrs. George Fleischman, of 445 Madison street, was discharged.

Mr. Lazarus stated that he was a nephew of District-Attorney Stonehall, of San Francisco, had never been arrested before and was never, as stated at the time of his arrest, drowned by his parents. His mother, he said, had been dead for five years.

BAL, CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—To superstitious minds there isn't the slightest doubt but that the Giants were doomed out of yesterday's game.

The young man who as mascot joined the club during their last visit here and after being loaded down with money and kindness reciprocated by stealing everything he could carry away from the New York club-house, turned up here again yesterday and, maliciously and with evil intent, followed the Giants' baggage all the way out to the grounds.

To-day his grand cheer carried him into the barge itself, but after being tossed about from one end of the vehicle to the other, was ignominiously ejected.

To-day, to counteract his evil influence, a hunchback boy was engaged to take charge of the bats.

Yesterday, too, thirteen Giants were in uniform, while to-day fourteen men donned the "Nadly" costumes. These same black clothes excited a great deal of admiration from the Chicagoans, who pronounce them a great improvement upon the brick-colored uniforms of days gone by.

Manager Muttie offered President Springfield a chance to lose or win a silk hat on the result of to-day's game, but the latter didn't see the use in buying head-gear for Jim.

A good deal of dissatisfaction has been expressed in regard to Nick Young's choice of umpires for the present important series here, and that, too, by local cranks, who, while admitting that thus far the umpiring has been favorable to them, say that John Kelly should have been sent here.

The weather, though fairer than yesterday, is decidedly cooler, and the 4,000 who saw the game were well muffled in overcoats and cigar smoke.

Anson says now that he'll get the four straight to a certainty, but refuses to add further wearing apparel to the bats already made with Muttie.

It was expected that Dwyer, another new pitcher, would be tried to-day, but Krock was in the box when the Chicagoans took the field.

Keete and Ewing had their pictures taken yesterday to the game, and formed the New York battery.

Second Inning.—Anson knocked up a little foul to Ewing, and Ward by a fine stop and throw caught Pfeiffer's retirement at first. Williamson was given his case on balls, but Barnes, to the crowd's disgust, struck out.

O'Rourke was the first man at bat in the Giants' battery, and he made a fine play on a ball hit by Ryan. Five balls gave Whittier first. Slattery was given out on a foul ball. Ryan scored.
